Coloring compositions by part positions

Hua Wang, Georgia Southern University

We consider integer compositions, colored according to the positions of parts. Through the generating functions of such compositions, we find connections to many other combinatorial objects including, but not limited to, numerical strings, permutations and regular compositions. We present some interesting bijections and questions. This is joint work with Gabriel Loos and Andrew Zhang.

Keywords: compositions, bijection, permutation, n-color compositions