

Gems from the Problem Section of the American Mathematical Monthly

Daniel Ullman, George Washington University

The American Mathematical Monthly has been publishing problems since its inception in 1894. In October, 2017, the journal published its 12,000th problem. In this talk, we'll look at a few of my favorites over the years.