

Connectivity in realization graphs

Michael D. Barrus, University of Rhode Island

The connectivity graph of a degree sequence d is the graph whose vertices are the labeled realizations of d , with two vertices adjacent if the corresponding graphs differ by an edge-switching operation. It is well known that this graph is connected for any d . We show that all but two realization graphs are 2-connected and discuss conditions under which they have higher connectivity.