

SPRING 2023

RESPONSIBLE CONDUCT OF RESEARCH (RCR) WORKSHOPS

The Spring 2023 RCR series, offered in partnership with MPFI, consists of four live Zoom modules covering core research integrity competencies, best practices, and guidelines for researchers. Your RCR Training Certificate is valid at FAU and MPFI for four years. Be research ready! Complete MPFI mandatory RCR training and fulfill federal requirements in preparation for grant applications and awards.

PROTECTION OF HUMAN SUBJECTS AND WELFARE OF RESEARCH ANIMALS

Presented by Michael Maniaci, Ph.D. and Sylvia Gografe, Ph.D., D.V.M.

12 – 2 p.m. Monday, February 13th or Tuesday, February 21st

Humans have rights and animals do too. Learn how researchers can best protect the rights and welfare of their research subjects.

DATA MANAGEMENT PRACTICES, RESEARCH MISCONDUCT AND COLLABORATIVE RESEARCH

Presented by Charles Dukes, Ph.D., Ed.D.

12 – 2 p.m. Monday, February 6th or Thursday, February 16th

You collect, analyze, protect, and store the data, but is the data yours? How should you safeguard yourself, your collaborators, and your research – from here or abroad?

CONFLICT OF INTEREST

Presented by Katherine Heinze, Ph.D., R.N.

12 – 2 p.m. Friday, February 10th or Friday, March 3rd

Learn how to identify potential conflicts across your various roles as a researcher and how to manage them to ensure trustworthy research.

RESPONSIBLE AUTHORSHIP & PUBLICATION, PEER REVIEW AND MENTOR/MENTEE RESPONSIBILITIES

Presented by Howard Butcher, Ph.D., R.N.

1:30 – 3:30 p.m. Friday, February 24th or 12 – 2 p.m. Tuesday, February 28th

You know the scientific method and your field, but do you know how to find a mentor, who should be an author, or the processes of submitting to journals and surviving peer review?
